

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 22: Willow River Area

Pickering barn

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 22: Willow River Area

Pickering shed or barn

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 22: Willow River Area

The first Pickering house built circa 1910, slowly disappearing into the ground

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 22: Willow River Area

Edwin and Francis Perry

Courtesy of John and Myles Perry

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 22: Willow River Area

Perry's house

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 22: Willow River Area

Mike Tereschuk's house on Wansa Creek

Courtesy of Ernie Kaesmodel

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 22: Willow River Area

Tereschuk's chicken house or shed

Courtesy of Ernie Kaesmodel

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 22: Willow River Area

Tereschuk homestead with barn roof caving in

Courtesy of Ernie Kaesmodel

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 22: Willow River Area

What is left of the Cameron homestead house

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 22: Willow River Area

The Bacchus barn

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 22: Willow River Area

Alice Brown and Mrs Raines, the two mothers

Courtesy of Buster Brown

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 22: Willow River Area

Alice and Jack Brown

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 22: Willow River Area

Buster Brown and Naomi Raines on old Willow River Bridge, before they were married. Mabel Handford at edge.

Courtesy of Buster Brown